Cep Jandi Anwar, Nicholas Okot, Indra Suhendra, Santa Yolanda, Rah Adi Fahmi Ginanjar, Hady Sutjipto:

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to International Journal of Economics and Finance Studies, "Response of Exchange Rate to Monetary Policy Shocks: An Evidence from Indonesia".

Our decision is: Revisions Required

-----
Reviewer A and B:

Abstract

- Add some statement of the problem.

Introduction

- Cite source of literature:

The literature suggests that monetary policy is more effective in stabilization of the exchange rate shock in developing countries like Indonesia compared with their advanced or industrialized countries counterparts.

- There is no need to add findings in the last paragraph of this section.
- Add some theory point of view which have the same concept.
- Add some background about this study.
- Add some statistical facts and figures.

Literature Review

- Kindly add methodology and data analysis techniques of previous studies in literature.
- Add novelty of the study.

Methodology

- Add conceptual framework for better understanding.
- Try to add table which explain the details description of the variables.
- Cite previous studies which used the same variables.

Results

- Where is Table 1?
- Where is Table 5?
- Why used real exchange rate instead of nominal exchange rate?
- I think there is a need to correction in numbering of tables.

Conclusion

- Conclude results according to the objectives.
- Add suggestions for further studies.

References

- Follow APA style in text citations and references list.

Recommendation: Accept Submission
