Importance of the idea This article is quite interesting and well written, but there is no significant novelty in this article	Thank you. For novelty, we write in the last paragraph in Introduction: “The existing studies have not reported about the effect of S/W in mixture substrate of RS and SM yet. Therefore, this study aims to investigate the influence of TS concentration on biogas yield from mixture substrate of RS and SM (with ratio of 60:40) (I. Syaichurrozi, 2018), to investigate the effect of ammonium, ammonia and VFA on the digestion process and to compare the biogas evolution through modified Gompertz and first order kinetic models. Finally, the predicted of optimum TS was estimated by making correlation between TS and biogas yield.“
Gramatical Grammatically is good enough but it is recommended that this article should be fine tuned so that this article becomes better grammatically	Thank you. We have revised the manuscript. Please check our revision on the manuscript.
Overall Reviews The similarity level of this article is very high, exceeding 80%, therefore this article must be revised first until the similarity level is lower than 15% and resubmitted.	Thank you. The high similarity is caused by that the same files have been stored in Turnitin database. I will ask help of Turnitin administrator in our university to delete them. However, when this manuscript has been checked using ithenticate, the similarity is low enough (below 20%).
